

Higher salary wage compensation to private businesses

Nina Wedsted
Partner, Head of Employment,
Denmark

Michael Klejs Pedersen
Attorney, Director

Daniel Egeberg Markussen
Attorney, Director

The tripartite agreement between the Government and the two sides of industry is being extended through a new agreement that increases the compensation level to private businesses in the wage/salary compensation scheme.

The wage/salary compensation level for salaried employees and non-salaried employees is increased from DKK 23,000 and DKK 26,000 to DKK 30,000 per month per full-time employee covered by the salary/wage compensation scheme.

The new compensation level will apply to all applications from 25 March 2020. The businesses that have already received the wage/salary compensation amount will be able to readjust the compensation payment accordingly. The improvements have been introduced to make the salary/wage compensation scheme more attractive for private businesses and in that way reduce the notice of dismissals due to COVID 19.

You may find more information about the salary/wage compensation scheme in our previous newsletters:

- The Danish Act on employers' and employees' rights and duties under the salary/wage compensation scheme has now been passed.
- Applications now open for salary/wage compensation – here's how to apply.

Services

Employment
