& Restructuring

Maersk Growth, the venture capital arm of the Danish logistics and transportation giant, Maersk Group, made its first agritech investment in US-based TeleSense Inc - just a few months after launching FoodTrack, its startup acceleration program.

Maersk Growth is part of Maersk Group's overall efforts to drive the transformation of the transport and logistics industry and shape the future of trade.

Maersk Growth was advised by Nicholas Lerche-Gredal and Henrik Sjørsløv.
